SALVAGE

FRENCH OAK FLOORING + ARCHITECTURAL ANTIQUES

At The Salvage Company, we travel the world seeking out products for contemporary architectural and interior projects. The company's major focus is French oak flooring; we offer the largest selection of colour and finishes in Australia including reclaimed and new. The Salvage Company imports European new French oak flooring of the highest quality. Our collections of European Oak and tropical species are available across Australia to designers and architects, and are perfect for the project requiring something very special. Our flooring adorns the most progressive interiors in more than forty countries. The new French oak flooring collections include a blend of old and new, smooth and rustic surfaces in a wide range of colours, offering a timeless selection of appearances. In order to keep the palette up to date, periodically colours are retired and new colours are added; retired colours are available upon order. At The Salvage Company we provide the largest selection of original and recycled French Oak. We pride ourselves on re-discovering the beauty of the past. We offer the design industry access to our extensive range of antique timber as well as a bespoke design service.
