

A Colourful Past

Here at Salvage, we have travelled the world, searching for amazing architectural antiques and design pieces, salvaging them and breathing new life into them with our clients here in Australia, Hong Kong and New Zealand.

We are specialists in all things French Oak, including structural and feature French Oak posts and beams, which have been salvaged from buildings in Europe due for demolition or renovation. We bring this 300+ year wood to Australia because of its beauty, texture and versatility. These items will give your interior project a touch of style that is unique. From benchtops to tables, beautiful joinery work, we partner with professionals to create pieces for your project.

Chandeliers and lighting, wrought iron work, will add character, to your home, ant.

panelling. We have comprehensive warranties available with our New French Oak floors, a huge array of colours and styles, and installation advice and connections as well. Our installing partners are highly sought after right around Australia, and they are always available to impart their knowledge and experience to assist your design.

Ultimately, what sets Salvage apart is our recycled French Oak flooring. Many of these floors have been reclaimed from incredible and historic buildings of France, Switzerland and Austria, and come with a provenance, history and story unmatched. We conduct research around the salvage work, and can often offer our clients the opportunity to enthral their guests with the story of where their oak came from, the type and function of the building of which it was a part, and how we came to salvage it.
